Bethel Health Council Seeks Aid for Needy

The Bethel Health Council has urgent need for warm clothing for the needy. A good sweater, size 32, would be a good Christmas for a bigger girl. Four girls and six boys, ages 11 or 12, need warm things to go to school, especially good underwear, sweaters and stockings. A great many have no overcoats or rubbers to keep out the snow. All the way down the age scale to the babies-in-arms there are five or more boys and girls in each age group who have little or no protection against the cold weather. Tiny Pat, age 5, eyed a caller from a corner by the kitchen stove, wearing his pajamas over something thin underneath. He can't go out and play because there is no money for snow suits and underwear and rubbers. Grace, age 11, in the bitter cold of last week, had a couple of cotton blouses and a thin sweater to cover her back for school. Many had some almost worn-out loafers to wade to the bus in the slush. Susie, an infant sits on a bare rubber in her crib. There are no sheets. At ten above zero in a searching wind there is but one thin blanket for each bed in many a home.

On the other side of the picture there have been heartening responses. Miss Whitney's Future Homemakers of Grafton Academy are mending used clothing for small girls—about 40 pieces in all. Five families have given bed covers, some of which have already been delivered to help against the cold. A grain dealer donated seven white bags to make crib sheets. The Oxford Paper Company sent four sheets which have been laundered and made ready to put on a bed. Some ragged cotton flannel sheets have gone out to help on a chilly night. There must be useful articles, bedding, warm clothing and outgrown footwear, still good, but packed away in many a Bethel home. Please hunt them up and send at once—before you forget—to Barbara Douglas. Send things in good repair, if you can, because all mothers are not capable menders—but send them anyway.

For the food-baskets which go out from the Health Council next Monday the appropriation covers only the cost of the chickens. Potatoes have been generously donated by the three growers in Bethel. There is still a need for powder, milk, instant cocoa, oats, bread, soups, vegetables, cookies, sugar, lots of apples for children, oranges, and candy, to make even a modest Christmas dinner complete. On December 22 the Sunday School of both churches will bring in their annual offerings to help fill the baskets. Besides these gifts there should be some staple foods to meet the need.

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

There has been instances after the fire whistle has blown of persons dialing the Red Network number to inquire the location of the fire. The Red Network was installed for one purpose only and that is to report fires. Anyone dialing to know the location of a fire may get the information by driving to the Fire Station and checking the blackboard. When a call comes in the first one to the station write the location of the fire on the board for information to direct firemen who arrive after the truck has left.

Clifford Hillier who has served as Civilian Defense Director was to be replaced. He has stated that with his duties at Grafton he does not have the necessary time to attend to the office.

Frank Bean of Bryant Pond is the County Director and he would like to continue the monthly meetings with C.D. personnel in Bethel and surrounding towns. These meetings are held at the Bethel Selectmen's Office on the 2nd Wednesday of each month.

It is desirable to have a local director so that we may have a local unit. It is not necessary to have a large unit but one that is organized and could spare a couple of hours time each month to attend the meetings. Also to be available in an emergency.

Sincerely,
Harold L. Bean

Gilead Man Killed In Collision at South Gray

Robert Losier of Berlin and Jeddie Green (Greenier) of Gilead were killed last Thursday when their car in which they were riding collided with two trucks at South Gray. The accident occurred when Mr. Losier attempted to pass a truck while approaching a curve. His new car then collided head-on with another truck. Neither truck driver was hurt.

Other passengers in the Losier car, George Bergeron of Berlin and Larry Losier of Gilead were taken by ambulance to the Maine Medical Center at Portland.

Sidney Littlefield, Native of Stoneham, Observed 100th Birthday Last Week

Sidney Littlefield a native of Stoneham, Maine, celebrated his 100th birthday in North Abington, Mass., Dec. 11.

Born in Stoneham, Dec. 11, 1857, Mr. Littlefield was the eldest of the four sons of John S. and Anna Russell Littlefield. Educated in the little red schoolhouse of his native town, Mr. Littlefield worked, as a young man, in Bryant Pond, and Stoneham, before moving to North Abington, Mass., many years ago, where he founded the well known Littlefield-Wyman Greenhouses, specializing in carnations, or as they were known then "pinkies," growing. Before leaving Maine he married Ethel Wyman of Bryant Pond, who died several years ago. One daughter Mrs. Theo. Nelson, who makes her home with her father, was born to this union.

Mr. Littlefield retired from active business some twenty years ago, but still retains his interest as an unofficial advisor.

During the many years of activity in the growing of carnations, he originated many new varieties, one of the most outstanding ones being the Sidney Littlefield, well known throughout the trade.

The first observance of Mr. Littlefield's 100th birthday was a banquet of the Massachusetts Carnation Growers, held at the town hall in Tewksbury, Tuesday evening. The guest of honor was presented with the first Sidney Littlefield award for outstanding achievement in carnation growing. This award is in the form of a sterling silver fruit bowl properly inscribed. One of these awards will go each year, if earned, to some deserving grower of carnations. This is made possible through the Sidney Littlefield Foundation, established by the Carnation Growers Association. Mr. Littlefield was also presented an elegant easy chair at the banquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Walton Wyman entertained Mr. Littlefield and his daughter, Mrs. Nelson, at a dinner party at their home in North Abington, Wednesday night. Also present were Raynor Littlefield, a nephew, and Mrs. Littlefield; Mrs. Harry Swift, a niece, and Mr. Swift, all of Locke Mills, Maine; Mr. and Mrs. Burton M. John, Leicester, Mass., and Miss Olive Elliott of Marblehead.

At 7:30 p. m. the townspeople joined in a reception at the first Baptist Church of North Abington, where he has served for many years as Deacon, Sunday school teacher and choir director. After a program under the direction of Lloyd Hathaway, the honor guest was presented with a beautiful floor lamp, a purse of one hundred dollars, from all the churches in the town, an electric shaver from the Littlefield-Wyman employees, a large portrait of himself with copious praise from the Baptist Church, presented by Lloyd Hathaway inscribed "Presented to Sidney Littlefield, servant of the Lord, to express our esteem to you and to recognize your more than fifty years of devoted service as member, teacher and deacon of our church, we present this to you on your 100th anniversary." Personal letters of congratulation from President, Executive and the Governor of Massachusetts were read.

The refreshments were served in the recreation room to some 250 people with "Sing" Wheeler's masterful A program of music was enjoyed, and the Central Alley boys also including several selections by the choir of St. Heligists.

Others attending from Maine were Mrs. Rupert Farnum, a niece, and Mr. Farnum; and Mr. and Mrs. Harris Hathaway, all of Bryant Pond.

Until recent years Mr. Littlefield has been a great reader and is well read on a wide variety of subjects. He is still retaining a keen mind and is a very interesting conversationalist.

On December 19, Brother Sidney Littlefield will have been a mem-

State Police and Highway Safety Committee Plan For Accident Prevention

Col. Robert Marx, State Police chief, and Brian M. Jewett, chairman of the Maine Highway Safety Committee, has announced that plans have been made to carry out Governor Muskie's directive for an all-out accident-prevention program during the Christmas-New Year holiday period.

"Special enforcement techniques will be employed during this critical traffic period," said Col. Marx. "Obviously, every available trooper will be assigned to patrol duty. The recent addition of 25 men to the force will increase the impact of the 'round-the-clock' State Police patrol."

Included among "special enforcement techniques", Col. Marx listed road blocks, saturation patrols, and plainclothes spotters. He also stated that license and registration inspection will be a regular feature of the program.

Chairman Jewett, heartily in accord with the intensive enforcement effort during the holidays, said:

"We know, from previous experience, that the driving public is wholeheartedly in favor of such stepped-up enforcement programs during times of unusual traffic danger. The public response to the traffic war in September of 1955 was overwhelmingly encouraging. The average motorist appreciates the fact that traffic violators—the speeder, the drunken driver, and the reckless driver—present a very real and terrible threat to the lives and safety of everyone on the road, and he welcomes and supports enforcement efforts which will serve to rule these non-conformists off the road."

"As chairman of the Maine Highway Safety Committee, I urge county and local enforcement groups to continue their safety efforts and to intensify their enforcement programs during this holiday period. Finally, I earnestly entreat every driver and every walker to be his own traffic policeman. Voluntary compliance with the law and with common sense safety rules is the real answer to the problem."

The Bethel fire department was called to the mill of the Hanover Dowel Company about 7:30 Friday evening after the alarm of the mill sprinkler system sounded. Fortunately a search of the premises revealed no fire, and the cause of the alarm is not known.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Willard are expecting their children home on Friday for the holidays as follows: John and David Willard from Princeton N. J., Ronald from William and Mary College in Williamsburg, Va., Nancy from Russell Sage College in Troy, N. Y.

The Church Choir of the Methodist Church will sing two numbers at the morning service Sunday. The choir director is Norma Jean Sloan and Charlene Swartz is assistant. Linda Paine is organist. Members of the choir are Jean Robertson, Wanda Tibbets, Stephanie Pauli, Nancy Chaplin, Tommy Davis, Jimmy Perkins, Lloyd Sweetser and Ronald Lothrop.

A Christmas party was given Saturday morning at the home of Virginia McMillin for the children who attend Sunday School classes each week. Refreshments of cake, drinks, candy and popcorn were served after exchanging gifts. The children who attended were: Claudia Demonte, Alan Curtis, Nancy and Jackie Saunders, Kathy Merrill, Darlene Merrill, James and Katrina Lowe, Stanley and Martin Wheeler, Ruth and Glenna Witter, Judy Deaneches.

Mrs. Ruth Dorson entertained Circle 2 of the Congregational Women's Fellowship at a buffet supper on Wednesday evening. Those attending were Mrs. Harold Bennett, Mrs. Everett Chase, Mrs. Theodore Emery, Miss Nellie MacDougall, Mrs. Herschel Gilson, Mrs. Robert Scott, Mrs. Lewis Barone, Mrs. Ernest Mundi, Mrs. Naomi Varner, Miss Helen Varner, Mrs. John Tebbets, Mrs. Harlan Hutchins, Mrs. Charles Gorman, Mrs. Dana Douglas, Mrs. Edmond Vachon, Mrs. O. H. Anderson, and the hostess, Mrs. Ruth Dorson.

We each have a duty in traffic. It is true. This statement applies to ME and to YOU. Walking or driving—don't trust to luck. This safety's a team thing—DON'T PASS THE BUCK!

HOWARD - LAWS

The Parsonage of the West Parish Congregational Church was the scene of a small family wedding party last Saturday evening, when Miss Janet A. Laws and William A. Howard, both of Kearsarge, N. H., were joined in marriage by the bride's father, the Rev. Clifford W. Laws.

The double-ring ceremony was performed before a fireplace setting with evergreen background. Miss Martha E. Laws attended her sister as bridesmaid. The best man was Roland Sanphy of North Conway, N. H.

Present at the wedding and reception that followed were members of the immediate families and a few friends from the Conway area.

Mrs. Howard is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Clifford W. Laws of Bethel. She attended the schools of Ossipee, N. H., and is a graduate of Kennett High School in Conway, N. H. For the past two years she has been employed at the well-known ski and resort area at Cranmore Mt. in North Conway, N. H.

William Howard is the son of Mrs. Barbara Howard of Kearsarge, N. H. He attended Kennett High School in Conway, N. H., and served a tour of duty with the U. S. Army. He is also employed at the Cranmore Mt. resort area.

The couple will continue their work at the resort area and will make their home in Kearsarge, N. H.

STAR IN THE NIGHT

There is one part of the Christmas story that never fails to fascinate me: the Wise Men.

Who were those mystic men who came out of darkness to Bethlehem, in search of truth? Where did they come from, and what happened to them afterward? How I would like to know their names, their earlier history, and what became of them after they had come to Bethlehem.

Those Wise Men have captured the imagination of the world. No Christmas Pageant is complete without them, no Christmas card is more appealing than one showing the distant figures of these wise men on camel-back, plodding their way across the trackless wastes of the Arabian Desert, following the star.

They had no road map; they did not even know where Bethlehem was. But they set out across the desert to follow the star.

If they had come in our day, their story would have been told by some television news program, with perhaps a brief announcement on the screen: "The Wise Men were transported by Trans-Desert Airlines."

But the Wise Men did it the hard way, by camel back. Only one who has ridden a camel knows just how hard that is!

But it seems to me that the really important thing about them was: "They followed the star."

Now a star is not a very big thing to follow. The sky was dark, and so was the road ahead. But they followed the star, the one feeble glimmer of light that they possessed—and it led them to their destination.

The world looks pretty dark to us. We don't very often see the way clearly ahead. But there has never been a time, no matter how dark the night, when we haven't had some light on the road we should take. It might be no brighter than that one little star which led the wise men.

But as we follow the light we have, however feeble, it becomes brighter, and it leads us one day to our eternal goal.

Wise men (and women) of the first century of the twentieth follow what light they have. Slight as it may be, it is enough.

SOMETHING IMPRACTICAL, PLEASE

The Christian Science Monitor: Comes now the season of the outlandish as well as the sensible in Christmas gifts. Not that we've seen so many fantastic items this year as some years, but they are there in the metropolitan advertisements. Something for the relative who "has everything" or for the executive whose shopping list must start with a diamond necklace.

There is for cold-drink glasses a set of coasters trimmed in milk at $3.50 each, plus tax. There is a bracelet charm, solid gold, in the shape of a kitchen sink—for the woman not too familiar with the enameled original. And of course, such items as a $50 pair of cufflinks, a jewel-studded pencil for $100, an 18th-century chandelier marked down from $15,000 to $12,000, and for $44,000 a pin that looks for all the world like a beetle.

All these things presumably have their places. We are most reminded, however, of the story of a sweet little lady who had spent her quota of years cherishing whatnots of bric-a-brac and who was asked by her grandchildren what they could give her for a remembrance. Her answer was, "A kiss; I won't have to dust that."

SCHOOL NEWS

Mrs. Gunther's Grade

Our Christmas decorations are all up. For the sixth year in a row Tom Chadbourn brought our Christmas tree. We have begun our study of geometrical designs. They're lots of fun but Oh! why won't those lines meet in the proper places? Book reports are due Wednesday. Vacation is coming. Just think, no school for two weeks. Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

Grade 6—Mrs. Doris Lord

Last week we finished our Christmas decorations. Some of my classmates did a number of hand-painted Christmas murals and pictures on walls and windows. We also made some Christmas gift posters for friends and relatives.

We received a Gold Star for our penmanship. Mrs. Lord was quite pleased with us. This Friday we will have a Christmas party. We will sing songs, have choral readings and also gifts. Our new plastic globe arrived last week! We are grateful to those who bought subscriptions to Farm Journal. This week we started our study of Alaska. This I have found, is a very interesting subject. Corey Brown brought some very unique things from Alaska. Totem poles, miniature of course, some polished mas season. Gifts were exchanged in a novel way by drawing of numbers. A very pleasant evening was had by all.

To Hold Chain Saw Clinic At West Bethel Saturday

All chain saw owners and users are invited to attend a chain, bar and sprocket maintenance clinic Saturday, Dec. 21, at the West Bethel Grange Hall, 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. An Oregon saw chain factory representative, Norman Bjornstad, will conduct the clinic and will demonstrate correct chain filing methods.

He will also show chain saw users proper maintenance techniques for saw bars and sprockets. Actual log cutting demonstrations will prove how the chain saw user can cut faster and have less trouble with his saw if he follows factory recommendations.

Several local chain saw dealers are cooperating to sponsor the clinic and the Bethel chain saw dealers are in charge of the program. They say that anyone who uses a chain saw can profit by attending and that free coffee and doughnuts will be available all day during the chain clinic.

GOUTY SKATING RINK

brought forth several Gouty Outing Club members to prepare the enlarged skating rink for future use. Actually there will be little time or opportunity to use this facility until vacation, but the local students will probably find great use for it during their holidays.

With the advent of another rink at the Crescent Park School, it seems wise to make a few restrictions as follows. After the Christmas holidays this schedule will be in effect:

Saturday 10:00-11:30 a. m. Hockey playing when there is a sufficient number of boys.

Saturday 1:30-4:00 p. m. and Sunday 2:00-4:00 p. m. Skating for people over 12 only.

No dogs at any time.
